

Transition Stage & Readiness Assessment

Module 1: Your New Starting Point

This worksheet combines your transition stage identification with the 3 Windows of Readiness framework from Module 1. Complete both parts to get a clear picture of where your family stands — and what needs attention before you move forward.

PART 1: YOUR TRANSITION STAGE

Check the one stage that best describes your current situation:

■ Stage 1: Early Planning (1-5+ Years Out)

Proactive, no immediate crisis. Focus: gradual decluttering, savings, research.

■ Stage 2: Preparing to Move (3-12 Months Out)

Decision made, timeline is real. Focus: systematic prep, 2-3 modules/month.

■ Stage 3: Urgent Transition (0-3 Months Out)

Health crisis or safety concern. Focus: safety first, as-is sale, professional help.

My Stage: _____ Estimated timeline to move: _____

PART 2: THE 3 WINDOWS OF READINESS

Rate each window on a scale of 1-5. Be honest — this assessment is for your family, not for a grade.

WINDOW 1: THE SENIOR'S READINESS

How emotionally ready is the senior for this transition?

- 1 — Strongly resistant. Refuses to discuss it. Gets angry or shuts down.
- 2 — Resistant but aware. Knows something needs to change but won't engage.
- 3 — Reluctantly open. Will talk about it but hasn't accepted it emotionally.
- 4 — Accepting. Understands the need and is willing to participate.
- 5 — Fully ready. Has initiated or embraced the conversation themselves.

Senior Readiness Score: _____ / 5

Notes: _____

WINDOW 2: THE FAMILY'S ALIGNMENT

How aligned are the adult children, siblings, and caregivers on the plan?

- 1 — Major conflict. Siblings disagree on everything. Arguments are common.
- 2 — Significant tension. Different opinions on urgency or approach. No plan.

- 3 — Mostly aligned. General agreement but details cause friction.
- 4 — Aligned with minor gaps. Everyone agrees on the big picture, some details TBD.
- 5 — Fully united. Clear roles, shared plan, everyone contributing.

Family Alignment Score: _____ / 5

Notes: _____

WINDOW 3: THE SITUATION'S URGENCY

How much are external factors (health, safety, finances) driving the timeline?

- 1 — No urgency. Everything is stable. This is purely proactive planning.
- 2 — Low urgency. Minor concerns but nothing immediate. 1-2 years out.
- 3 — Moderate urgency. Health declining or home becoming unmanageable. 6-12 months.
- 4 — High urgency. Recent health event or safety incident. 3-6 months.
- 5 — Crisis. Immediate safety or health emergency. Action needed now.

Situation Urgency Score: _____ / 5

Notes: _____

PART 3: YOUR RESULTS

Senior Readiness: _____ / 5 Family Alignment: _____ / 5 Situation Urgency: _____ / 5

WHAT YOUR SCORES MEAN

If Senior Readiness is 1-2:

Don't push. Focus on communication strategies in Module 13. Read The Unheard Conversation ($9.99 on Amazon) for the specific language to open this window without triggering a shutdown. If the situation urgency is also high, you may need to act on logistics while continuing to work on emotional readiness.

If Family Alignment is 1-2:

You need a structured family meeting before making any major decisions. Module 13 has the agenda template, conflict de-escalation scripts, and task division planner. Unresolved family conflict will sabotage every other module. Address this first.

If Situation Urgency is 4-5:

Safety overrides everything. Move to Module 5 (Safety & Repairs) and Module 9 (Home Sale Strategy) immediately. Don't wait for the other two windows to be perfect. Act on the crisis, bring the family and senior along as you go.

If all three scores are 3+:

You're in a strong position. Work through the Blueprint in order (Linear path), 2-3 modules per month. You have alignment and time — use it wisely.

If Senior is low but Family and Situation are high:

This is the most common scenario. The family knows something needs to happen, the situation demands it, but the senior won't engage. Lead with legacy, not logistics (Module 1, Lesson 4). Give the senior control over small decisions while the family handles the big ones.
